MAINE CELTICS NOTES

OT HEARTBREAKER: The Maine Celtics saw a 13 point lead evaporate in the 3rd quarter, and costly turnovers late in the game allowed Greensboro to force overtime and win the season opener in the Final Target Score period, 131-129. Maine was led by Ron Harper Jr. and Wendell Moore Jr. who each scored 28 points – a career high for Moore, who led the bench scoring. All five Celtics finished in double figures, including Jalen Bridges and Kendall Brown, who each scored 15 in the loss. Two-Way guard Max Shulga finished with 18 points, 6 rebounds, and 8 assists. Amari Williams scored 14 including big buckets late in the 4th quarter. Up 3 in the final minute of regulation, Moore traveled, allowing Greensboro to tie the game with a three-pointer. In OT, the Celtics had the ball and a chance to win, but Shulga's turnover resulted in a foul that allowed the Swarm to win the game at the free throw line. Maine shot 30% (12-40) from three-point range, but just 63.2% (12-19) from the free throw line. The Celtics were out-rebounded 55-40. Maine committed 34 personal fouls, the second most in a game in franchise history. The loss snaps Maine's four game winning streak at Novant Health Fieldhouse, dating back to 2023.

FROM ME TO NC: There are several connections between the Maine Celtics and the Charlotte Hornets/Greensboro Swarm. Former head coach Blaine Mueller (2023-24) led Maine to the NBA G League Finals and is currently an assistant coach with the Hornets. Two-Way Player Drew Peterson played 63 games over the last two seasons with Maine on a Two-Way deal and was part of Boston's NBA Championship in 2023-24. DJ Rodman played 25 games for Maine last season, and Brandon Slater was a standout for the Celtics in 2023-24, playing in 46 games.

PRESSEY MAKES DEBUT: Maine Celtics new head coach Phil Pressey made his head coaching debut Nov. 7 at Greensboro. Pressey, who served as a player development coach in Boston last season, was named 11th head coach in Maine franchise history this fall, replacing Tyler Lashbrook, who left to accept a full-time assistant coach position with the Boston Celtics. Pressey is the first Maine head coach who also played for the franchise – the former point guard played one game for the then-Maine Red Claws during the 2014-15 season, scoring 34 points. Former Maine head coach Jarell Christian remains general manager of Maine for a fourth season.

NEW TWO-WAYS: The Maine Celtics have three new Two-Way players. Max Shulga and Amari Williams are both rookies, both selected by Boston in the Second Round of the 2025 NBA Draft. After a successful career at Kentucky, Williams was taken 46th overall, while Shulga, a VCU product, was selected at no. 57. Ron Harper, Jr. is currently on the third Two-Way slot.

NEW-LOOK CELTICS: Only three players are back with the Maine Celtics from last year's squad. Two-Way guard Ron Harper, Jr. is back with Maine after playing 14 games for the Celtics last season, averaging 17.4 points, 4.5 rebounds, and 2.7 assists per game. Harper earned a GATORADE Call-Up, signing a Two-Way Contract with the Detroit Pistons. Forward Hason Ward returns for a second season – in his rookie campaign, Ward was the only player to play in all 50 games in 2024-25. And Kameron Warrens returns to the Celtics for 2025-26 – the guard played 21 games for Maine last season.

NBA EXPERIENCE: The Maine Celtics boast 123 career NBA games played. Ron Harper, Jr. and Amari Williams have each played 2 games for Boston this season, while Harper also played for Detroit last season. Jalen Bridges, Kendall Brown and Wendell Moore, Jr. each share the NBA experience.

PLAYOFF PROWESS: Maine enters 2025-26 with back-to-back appearances in the Eastern Conference Finals of the NBA G League Playoffs. The Celtics lost to Osceola in the ECF last season, and Maine reached the NBA G League Finals for the first time ever in 2024-25, falling to Oklahoma City in three games.

SPLIT SEASON: Like last season, the first part of the NBA G League season will build towards the Tip-Off Tournament. The first 14 games of the season will build towards a winner-take-all tournament, which takes place at the NBA G League Winter Showcase in December. New for 2025-26, the standings will reset at the Showcase for a 36-game Regular Season, followed by traditional NBA G League Playoffs.

FIRST NBA POINTS: Two-Way big man Amari Williams got in the score sheet for the first time in Boston’s loss to Houston on Nov. 1. The rookie got late minutes and scored his first NBA bucket, a floater in the paint. Williams is expected to be in Maine’s lineup tonight in Greensboro.

REPLACING THE MVP: For the first time since the 2021-22 season, the Maine Celtics will be without JD Davison. The point guard played three seasons for Maine, all on a Two-Way Contract. Davison was named NBA G League MVP last season, averaging 25.6 points, 5.0 rebounds, and 7.8 assists per game. Davison finished his time in Maine as the franchise leader in almost every statistical category, including points (2,677), assists (1,065), steals (159), field goals (994), minutes (4,475), and games played (133). He is also the franchise playoff leader in most categories. Davison finished last season on a full contract with Boston. He was waived in the off-season and is currently on a Two-Way Contract with the Houston Rockets.

Head Coach - Phil Pressey

On July 2, 2025, Phil Pressey made history, accepting the role of Head Coach for the 2025-26 NBA G League season. Pressey becomes the first head coach in franchise history to also play for Maine during his career. The former NBA guard played at the Portland Expo while on assignment from the Boston Celtics during the 2014-15 season.

“I’d like to thank Brad Stevens, Joe Mazzulla, and the entire Celtics organization for believing in me and giving me a chance to grow, lead, and develop,” said Pressey. “I’m grateful for the opportunity and I will give my all to this team. The community of Portland is amazing, and I remember my time as a player was unforgettable at the Expo. My goal is to instill winning habits into every player who suits up for the Maine Celtics.”

Pressey began his coaching career in 2022 as an assistant coach with his alma mater, the University of Missouri. He then joined the Boston Celtics in 2023 where he has been ever since, working as a Player Development coach. A three-year standout at Missouri, Pressey played in 148 career NBA games over three seasons, 125 of those with the Celtics from 2013-15. In that time, he averaged 3.1 points, 1.9 rebounds, and 2.9 assists per game. Additionally, he played in 78 career G League games from 2014-17.

“Phil is a dedicated coach who has been instrumental in our player development over the last two seasons,” said Boston Celtics Head Coach Joe Mazzulla. “I am looking forward to seeing him grow as a coach and leader. He shows great energy and a willingness to learn. His personality and communication will be a gift to his players.”

“We’re excited to welcome Phil to the Maine Celtics as our new head coach,” said Maine Celtics General Manager Jarell Christian. “Phil’s journey – from playing in the NBA and NBA G League to developing talent with the Boston Celtics – makes him the perfect fit to lead our team and connect with the Maine community. We can’t wait for our fans to get to know him and see the energy and passion he brings to the game.”

Pressey is the son of former NBA player Paul Pressey, who also was an assistant coach for seven NBA teams from 1992-2016.
