PRESSEY MAKES DEBUT: Maine Celtics new head coach Phil Pressey made his head coaching debut Nov. 7 at Greensboro. Pressey, who served as a player development coach in Boston last season, was named 11th head coach in Maine franchise history this fall, replacing Tyler Lashbrook, who left to accept a full-time assistant coach position with the Boston Celtics. Pressey is the first Maine head coach who also played for the franchise – the former point guard played one game for the then-Maine Red Claws during the 2014-15 season, scoring 34 points. Former Maine head coach Jarell Christian remains general manager of Maine for a fourth season.

Harper earned a GATORADE Call-Up, signing a Two-Way Contract with the Detroit Pistons. Forward Hason Ward returns for a second season – in his rookie campaign, Ward was the only player to play in all 50 games in 2024-25. And Kameron Warrens returns to the Celtics for 2025-26 – the guard played 21 games for Maine last season.

REPLACING THE MVP: For the first time since the 2021-22 season, the Maine Celtics are without JD Davison. The point guard played three seasons for Maine, all on a Two-Way Contract. Davison was named NBA G League MVP last season, averaging 25.6 points, 5.0 rebounds, and 7.8 assists per game. Davison finished his time in Maine as the franchise leader in almost every statistical category, including points (2,677), assists (1,065), steals (159), field goals (994), minutes (4,475), and games played (133). He is also the franchise playoff leader in most categories. Davison finished last season on a full contract with Boston. He was waived in the off-season and is currently on a Two-Way Contract with the Houston Rockets.

Head Coach - Phil Pressey

On July 2, 2025, Phil Pressey made history, accepting the role of Head Coach for the 2025-26 NBA G League season. Pressey becomes the first head coach in franchise history to also play for Maine during his career. The former NBA guard played at the Portland Expo while on assignment from the Boston Celtics during the 2014-15 season.

"I'd like to thank Brad Stevens, Joe Mazzulla, and the entire Celtics organization for believing in me and giving me a chance to grow, lead, and develop," said Pressey. "I'm grateful for the opportunity and I will give my all to this team. The community of Portland is amazing, and I remember my time as a player was unforgettable at the Expo. My goal is to instill winning habits into every player who suits up for the Maine Celtics."

Pressey began his coaching career in 2022 as an assistant coach with his alma mater, the University of Missouri. He then joined the Boston Celtics in 2023 where he has been ever since, working as a Player Development coach.

A three-year standout at Missouri, Pressey played in 148 career NBA games over three seasons, 125 of those with the Celtics from 2013-15. In that time, he averaged 3.1 points, 1.9 rebounds, and 2.9 assists per game. Additionally, he played in 78 career G League games from 2014-17.

"Phil is a dedicated coach who has been instrumental in our player development over the last two seasons," said Boston Celtics Head Coach Joe Mazzulla. "I am looking forward to seeing him grow as a coach and leader. He shows great energy and a willingness to learn. His personality and communication will be a gift to his players."

"We're excited to welcome Phil to the Maine Celtics as our new head coach," said Maine Celtics General Manager Jarell Christian. "Phil's journey – from playing in the NBA and NBA G League to developing talent with the Boston Celtics – makes him the perfect fit to lead our team and connect with the Maine community. We can't wait for our fans to get to know him and see the energy and passion he brings to the game." Pressey is the son of former NBA player Paul Pressey, who also was an assistant coach for seven NBA teams from 1992-2016.
