On the Court

Playing its first contest on Nov. 12, 2016, against the Fort Wayne Mad Ants (Noblesville Boom), the Swarm has served as a key cog in igniting NBA careers within the Hornets organization and the NBA as a whole.

These success stories have been intertwined from the onset, as its first assignment from the Hornets, Christian Wood, went on to become one of the NBA G League's biggest success stories of the decade. That joint commitment in player development continues today, with players, including Liam McNeeley, Tidjane Salaün and Moussa Diabaté, earning stripes on assignment, and two-way center PJ Hall earning All-NBA G League Third Team a season ago.

The Swarm captured its first NBA G League Championship in the 2025-26 season with a perfect 5-0 record in the postseason. Greensboro trailed for 10 minutes during the entire postseason, the fewest time trailing by a league champion in history. Additionally, the Hornets organization became the first to ever win the NBA Las Vegas Summer League and G League Championship in the same season.

SWARM IN THE COMMUNITY

Entering its 11th season in Greensboro, the Swarm has become deeply woven into the fabric of the community, uplifting youth, supporting families and creating opportunities across the Triad.

In 2025, the Swarm received the Kathiann Lester Accelerate Award, presented by the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce at its annual State of Our Community event.

This distinguished honor recognizes a business or organization that demonstrates a strong commitment to both economic growth and community impact. The award specifically celebrates leadership that invests in the region's economic vitality through programs and initiatives that expand opportunities for individuals, families and businesses.

As the Swarm returns as reigning champions, the season will highlight a decade of growth, impact and community. It will reflect on the organization's journey and honor the individuals, fans and partners who made it possible, while looking ahead to an even stronger future.

SWARM IN THE COMMUNITY

The Greensboro Swarm have forged a history of creating pathways and providing opportunities for others, both on and off the court. We strive to develop the community leaders of today and tomorrow through our programming, annually serving thousands of students and members in Guilford County.

ACADEMY SPORTS
HOLIDAY SHOPPING SPREE

An Annual Event, in Partnership with Academy Sports and YMCA

The Greensboro Swarm have teamed up with Academy Sports + Outdoors and the YMCA of Greensboro for six seasons to host its Holiday Shopping Spree. This special in-store shopping event pairs Swarm players with under-resourced youth and their families, helping them shop and select items to make their holiday season brighter.

FROM COURT TO CLASSROOM: ROOKIE VET PROGRAM

The Swarm introduced its Rookie Vet Program, in partnership with Beyond Sports and Washington Elementary School, during its 2024-25 season. The campaign paired six students with Swarm players for mentorship and leadership development.

The NBA G League

The NBA G League is the NBA's official minor league, preparing players, coaches, officials, trainers and front-office staff for the NBA while acting as the league's research and development laboratory. The league offers elite professional basketball at an affordable price in a fun, family-friendly atmosphere. The 2026-27 NBA G League season is the league's 26th season and returns with its expanded playoff field and 31 teams, 30 of which are affiliated with an NBA team.

2025-26 Schedule Format:

For its sixth season, the NBA G League schedule will be divided into two parts: its 14-game Tip-Off Tournament, followed by a 36-game regular season. All 31 NBA G League teams will compete in at least 50 games during the 2025-26 season.

The Tip-Off Tournament, which marks the start of the 2026-27 season, begins on Friday, Nov. 6 and culminates when a champion is crowned during the 2026 NBA G League Winter Showcase in December. For the Tip-Off Tournament, teams are placed into four regions to play 14 games exclusively against each other. The teams with the best winning percentage in each region, along with the next four teams with the best winning percentages regardless of region, will advance to compete for the Championship at the NBA G League Winter Showcase. Every team will play at least two games at the Winter Showcase.

Following the Tip-Off Tournament, team records will reset before the 36-game regular season, which begins at the Winter Showcase. At the conclusion of the regular season, for the first time the top eight teams in each conference will qualify for the NBA G League Playoffs, which conclude with the NBA G League Finals in April 2027.

Alumni In The NBA:
A record 51 percent of players on NBA start-of-season rosters for 2024-25 had NBA G League experience, up from 47 percent on rosters the previous season. With big names such as Pascal Siakam, Rudy Gobert, Alex Caruso and Jordan Poole leading the way, every NBA team has at least one NBA G League alumni playing with them this past season.

Roster Construction

Two-Way Contracts:
Beginning in the 2017 offseason, NBA rosters expanded from 15 to 17 players with the addition of two spots for players under "Two-Way Contracts." For the 2026-27 season, each NBA team is permitted to have up to three players under Two-Way Contracts on its roster at any time (in addition to the maximum 15 players under Standard NBA Contracts).

NBA teams may have up to three players under NBA Two-Way Contracts who may be active for up to 50 games with their NBA team. Players signed to Two-Way Contracts are paid one salary for their time in both leagues. Only players with three or fewer years of NBA service are able to sign Two-Way Contracts, which can be for either one or two seasons.

NBA Assignees:
NBA teams can assign players with three years of service or less an unlimited number of times.

Returning Players:
Teams hold the rights to any player who has played for them within the last two seasons, as long as they have not released that player.

Affiliate Players:
From September to October, NBA teams trim their rosters from a maximum of 20 players invited to training camp to 15 on opening night. The "affiliate player rule" allows them to retain up to four of the players that they waive, while an additional three roster spots are now available for two-way contracts.

Players designated by an NBA team as affiliate players are automatically allocated to that team's NBA G League affiliate if they choose to sign an NBA G League contract. Affiliate players remain free agents available for any of the 30 NBA teams to sign.

Tryout Players:
NBA G League teams hold tryouts during each offseason, inviting some players to participate for free while attracting locals who pay a small fee. The teams can invite up to three players to their training camps.

A few dozen tryout players each year make their way onto training camp rosters, and many have even made it into game action and beyond. Standouts have included NBA Champion Jonathan Simmons (Austin Spurs), David Nwaba (South Bay Lakers) and Craig Randall II (Long Island Nets).

NBA G League Draft Picks:
Every fall, more than 200 players are signed by the league office and placed in the NBA G League Draft. About half of them are selected on Draft day, which features a field of NBA and NBA G League vets, international pros, undrafted rookies and NBA G League National Tryout players.

Free Agents/Waiver Claims:
The NBA G League rosters you see every fall are typically unrecognizable by wintertime. That's because the league is infused with talent throughout the season as players returning from stints overseas/NBA veterans working their way back into the league enter the player pool.

NBA G League teams can place claims on the newly available players through a rotation waiver system.

MIKE PIRES

GENERAL MANAGER

First Season with Swarm

GM

Mike Pires enters his first season as general manager of the Greensboro Swarm, bringing nearly a decade of NBA scouting and basketball operations experience to the organization while currently serving as Director of Pro Personnel with the Charlotte Hornets.

Pires becomes the fourth general manager in Swarm history after joining the Hornets following the 2023-24 season. His career has included stops with three NBA organizations — the Charlotte Hornets, Brooklyn Nets and San Antonio Spurs — while gaining experience across professional scouting, player evaluation and basketball operations.

Pires has built his career in player evaluation, progressing from the NBA G League into NBA basketball operations and scouting roles while gaining experience evaluating talent at multiple levels.

With Charlotte, Pires currently serves as Director of Pro Personnel as part of President of Basketball Operations Jeff Peterson's basketball operations department. He joined the Hornets following the 2023-24 season and has since advanced to his current role.

Prior to joining the Hornets, Pires spent time with the Brooklyn Nets, most recently serving as a Pro Scout during the 2023-24 season. While in Brooklyn, Pires worked alongside Peterson as a member of the Nets' basketball operations department and continued his work in professional scouting and player evaluation.

Pires joined Brooklyn following multiple seasons with the San Antonio Spurs organization, where he progressed from basketball operations into scouting. His roles with San Antonio included Basketball Operations Quality Control Assistant, Scouting/Personnel Quality Assurance Assistant and Regional Scout, G League and College.

ZACH PETERSON

HEAD COACH

First Season with Swarm

HC

Zach Peterson enters his first season as head coach of the Greensboro Swarm, bringing more than a decade of NBA coaching and player development experience to the organization. He will also continue in his role as assistant coach and director of player development with the Charlotte Hornets, where he has spent the previous two seasons.

Peterson becomes the fifth head coach in Swarm history after originally joining the organization as part of Head Coach Charles Lee's inaugural coaching staff. His career has included stops with five NBA organizations — the Hornets, Los Angeles Lakers, Oklahoma City Thunder, Milwaukee Bucks and Atlanta Hawks — while working alongside some of the most accomplished coaches in the sport.

All six men's basketball head coaches he has worked under have been part of NBA or NCAA Championship-winning staffs, including four – Tom Izzo, Mike Budenholzer, Billy Donovan and Mark Daigneault – who captured championships as head coaches. He also learned under the guidance of two Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame members in Izzo and Donovan, who were enshrined in the Classes of 2016 and 2025, respectively.

During his two seasons with the Charlotte Hornets, Peterson served as an assistant coach and director of player development while working alongside Lee and helping support the development of Charlotte's roster.

Prior to Charlotte, Peterson spent two seasons (2022-24) as an assistant coach with the Los Angeles Lakers. During his first season in Los Angeles, the Lakers became the first team in NBA history to reach the Western Conference Finals after entering the postseason through the NBA Play-In Tournament.

Peterson joined the Lakers after three seasons (2019-22) with the Oklahoma City Thunder as a player development coach. He helped lay the foundation for the Thunder's current iteration, assisting with player development for Oklahoma City's 2019-20 playoff team while working with players including two-time NBA Most Valuable Player Shai Gilgeous-Alexander.

In 2018-19, Peterson spent one season with the Milwaukee Bucks as head video coordinator under Budenholzer. Milwaukee posted a league-best 60-22 record, its first 60-win season since 1980-81, and advanced to the Eastern Conference Finals. Budenholzer was named NBA Coach of the Year, while Giannis Antetokounmpo earned NBA Most Valuable Player honors.

Peterson spent four seasons with the Atlanta Hawks from 2014-18, starting as a video intern into the team's head video coordinator while working alongside Lee. During his first season with Atlanta, the Hawks posted a franchise-record 60 wins and advanced to the Eastern Conference Finals. Atlanta also finished among the NBA's top six teams in defensive rating in each of Peterson's first three seasons with the organization.

Peterson's time in Atlanta and Milwaukee marked the beginning of a coaching relationship with Lee that has spanned more than a decade and now continues in Greensboro.
